

IMAGES OF ALVELEY.

In 1999 Alan Nicholls published a book of old photographs of Alveley for Alveley Historical Society. The book contained 143 photographs of Alveley covering the period 1880 to 1950. Many of the original images are in poor condition, dog-eared, ripped, faded and out of focus, the result of many years loving and curiosity by their owners. Nevertheless the collection gives a unique view of Alveley, its people, places and its past which will now be preserved by all who cherish their memories of this village and its surroundings. Due to huge demand the original print run sold out in a few months but the Society has now reprinted the book.

The book costs £13.50 including postage and packing. E-mail Alan for details.
