PRO C8/114/131 Lake vs Fluett 1653

John Lake of the Burroughs of Kidderminster, Butcher. Whereas Edward Fluett late of the parish of Alveley, Salop, husbandman, took to wife Ursula the daughter of Thomas Jones and Elizabeth his wife. Elizabeth was one of the daughters of John Andrewes late of Banbury, Oxford - your orators grandfather now deceased. Edward and Ursula had only son Thomas then Edward caught the plague and died and left the estate to Ursula and to Thomas his son being then an infant of half a year old. The child also caught the plague and died soon after and so did Ursula but she never wrote her will. But she spoke it leaving the orator - then an infant of 4 years, her cousin german, being only child of Margery the wife of Edward Lake, which Margery was sister to the said Elizabeth theretofore wife to Thomas Jones and aunt to the said Ursula - all or great part of her legacy. But after the death of Edward Fluett and his son Thomas one Humphrey Fluett of Alveley, brother of Edward, wheelwright, had the estate.
